On Saturday, January 16th, 2016 Corey Helford Gallery presents “Asymmetrical Diptych Group Show”, at their new downtown Los Angeles gallery. A diptych is two separate pieces which work together as one complete work of art. In CHG’s upcoming group show, twenty-six artists explore the relationship between those pieces spatially by creating all new asymmetrical diptychs. The lack of balance in art is as important as discordant sound in music, and the effect of these new two-piece works is both unsettling and yet extremely satisfying as the whole is greater than the parts. The exhibition opens to the public on January 16th and runs through February 13th in Gallery 3.
